On Wednesday evening of this week a number of the most intimate friends of both parties gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brooks, to witness the marriage service joining together in wedlock, Miss Emma L. Hutchinson and Mr. George E. Sawyer. The marriage took place at six o'clock, after which the assembled guests sat down with the bride and bridegroom to a splendid marriage feast prepared by Mrs. Brooks, sister of the bride. A very pleasant evening was afterwards spent in congratulations and social intercourse, and on the following morning the young couple left for their home in Orillia. Of both bride and bridegroom no word can be spoken except in terms of the highest praise. The bride has been for several years a most popular teacher in this town and vicinity, well connected and highly esteemed by everybody. The bridegroom has been looked upon as one of the most worthy young men of the town,—industrious, upright, and a zealous Christian worker in both Church and Sabbath school. We commend them both most heartily to the Methodist friends of Orillia, and our best wishes go with them for their future happiness and prosperity.—Mitchell Advocate. We extend a hearty welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer.

"Marriage: George E. Sawyer and Emma L. Hutchinson," Orillia Times, 24 May 1888.